

Carolina Kostner wins the gold medal at European Championships 2012.

Carolina Kostner wins her fourth European gold medal

Italian ice-skating star Carolina Kostner won the gold medal at the ISU European Figure Skating championships in Sheffield last week. Caroline scored 63.22 for her short programme, and 120.33 for her free skate - giving her an overall winning total of 183.55 and putting her way ahead of Finland's Kirra Korpi who finished in second place with a score of 166.94.

Carolina's other achievements in the last few years include:

- 2011 – Bronze medal, World Championships
- 2011 – Silver medal European Championships
- 2007, 2008, 2010 – Gold medal European Championships
- 2009 – Silver medal European Championships
- 2008 – Silver medal, World Championships

Herbalife applauds Carolina Kostner on becoming the European Figure Skating Champion and leading in the world rankings! We are proud to be her official sponsor.

VISIT
HerbalifeSports.com
TODAY